A NEW MODEL OF GLOBAL GOVERNANCE IN INTERNATIONAL TAX LAW MAKING

Invitation PhD Seminar

2023 PhD Seminar Leiden University, the Netherlands

“Perspectives on Tax Fairness: Reflections & Actions”

12th-13th October 2023

Doctoral candidates are invited to participate in the 2023 PhD Seminar. On Thursday 12th and Friday 13th of October 2023, the Institute of Tax Law and Economics of Leiden University is hosting a PhD Seminar on “Perspectives on Tax Fairness: Reflections & Actions”.

The aim of this PhD seminar is to encourage discussions and exchange ideas on issues related to Tax Fairness. In line with this goal, the seminar covers, among others, doctrinal and/or empirical doctoral researches connected to Tax Fairness, for example considering BEPS issues, dynamics between countries in tax treaties negotiations, (OECD) tax policies, (harmful) tax competition, tax compliance issues, fair tax trademarks, countries blacklists and the emerging multilateral order of international tax law. The seminar will be a great opportunity to build networks among PhD candidates and academics from all over the world.

This PhD Seminar is a joint initiative of the Institute of Tax Law and Economics at Leiden University, the Institute for Austrian and International Tax Law at WU, Stockholm University and Uppsala University, in cooperation with the ERC funded GLOBTAXGOV (A New Model of Global Governance in International Tax Law Making) project carried out at Leiden University.

Programme

During the seminar, participants have the opportunity to present their PhD research (or a section therein) and discuss it with experienced academics from all over the world.

The seminar also involves the participation of tax experts from Leiden University, including Prof. dr. I.J. Mosquera Valderrama and dr. D.M. Broekhuijsen.

More information about the programme will follow after the participants selection.

Location

The seminar will take place on Thursday 12th and Friday 13th of October in a hybrid setting. For those participating in person, the seminar will be hosted in Leiden (the Netherlands) at the Leiden Law School.

Registration, costs and contact

Please submit the registration form together with the abstract (max. 300 words) outlining the research via the following link by the 31st of May 2023.
