Roundtable: the UN Framework Tax Convention 12 July 13-14 CEST.

GLOBTAXGOV with Peter Hongler University of Gallen is organizing a roundtable on the UN Framework Tax Convention. This roundtable aims to create a dialogue around two topics: (i) to better understand under what conditions OECD and non-OECD countries would be open to agree on an UN Framework Tax Convention, and (ii) what is in the latest version of the Terms of Reference and what is missing in the Terms of Reference? See link to programme and speakers here

To register for attending the event online and to obtain a ZOOM link, please use the following link

This roundtable follows our first roundtable on 23 November 2023 that addressed the goals and structure of the new UN body vis-à-vis the OECD. See videorecording here

Input statement to the UN Zero Draft Terms of Reference: the UN Framework Tax Convention and Global Tax Governance: What changes are needed to enhance global tax governance?

On 24 June we submitted our input to the zero draft terms of reference. The zero draft is the first step towards a more inclusive and effective international tax cooperation. However, in this first step, it is important to give attention not only to the topics but also to the process. Main important question is how to ensure that this process is not questioned as it has been the case of the OECD/G20 and the BEPS Inclusive Framework. In the contribution, we have focused on the objectives, guiding principles and substantive elements of this UN Framework Convention. Input here .
